MEMORIAL DAY

Observed With Appropriate Exercises

SCHOOL CHILDREN TAKE PART IN MORNING EXERCISES

Afternoon Parade A Fine Show Of Respect For Departed Veterans

KITTERY AND YORK ALSO HOLD THEIR EXERCISES

Memorial day was observed in this city in the usual thorough manner for which the veterans of this city are noted, and it is safe to say that there is not a veteran's grave here of any war that is not decorated. The day opened with adverse weather conditions, the morning was overcast and there was a stiff breeze from the northeast, but during the forenoon the sun came out and it was very pleasant the rest of the day until late in the afternoon when there was a short shower.

Morning Exercises.

The exercises of the day began at nine o'clock, when the children from the various schools formed on Pleasant street and escorted the members of the Kearsarge Naval Veterans to the South Mill Bridge, where the very pretty service in memory of the veterans buried at sea was carried out. This consisted of a short address and the very pretty custom of casting flowers on the waters. All of the schools took part in the exercises and the children marched and looked very well.

Union Veteran's Union.

Then General Gilman Marston, Command, Union Veteran's Union, held their memorial service in their hall during the forenoon, and there was a large attendance of the Veterans. A musical and literary program was carried out and at noon the Veterans enjoyed their annual dinner.

Afternoon Exercises.

The principal exercises of the day were held in the afternoon, when the Storer Post No. 1, G. A. R., were escorted by the Marines from the Navy Yard, and Company B of this city, to the South Cemetery, where the usual exercises were held and the graves of the veterans decorated.

The line of parade formed on Mar-

et square at two o'clock and in the following order:

Assistant Marshal Michael Hurley, Platoon of Police, First Division

Chief Marshal J. A. Sanborn, senior vice commander, Storer Post, Chief of Staff, Lieut. Albert S. Fugger, U. S. A. Aids, Dr. S. F. M. Pickering, F. L. Trask, George Fogg, George H. Clark, Charles P. Heffenger, Charles A. Folger

United States Naval Band, R. L. Reinwald, bandmaster, Company United States Marines, First Lieut. J. T. Buttrick, commanding.

Company B, Second regiment, infantry, N. H. N. G., Capt. Chauncey B. Hoyt, commanding.

Winfield Scott Schley Camp, No. 5, United Spanish War Veterans, Comdr. Willis H. Alvin, commanding, Eagle Drum Corps, Fred Marden, leader.

Storer Post, Comdr. M. B. Long, commanding Carriages with memorial wreaths. Disabled veterans in carriages.

Second Division, Invited guests in carriages, No. 1, Representatives of the United States Navy, Comdr. J. P. Parker, U. S. N., Civil Engineer J. W. G. Walker, U. S. N.

GOSSIP OF A DAY COLLECTED BY OUR CORRESPONDENT

Kittery, May 31. On Wednesday afternoon, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. John R. Wentworth. There was a large number present and three new members were enrolled.

Before the business of the afternoon was taken up Mrs. Annie Damon, in behalf of the members of the union, presented Miss Jessie Wentworth with a beautiful potted plant.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

Rev. Daniel Onstott delivered an able memorial address last evening in the Second Christian Church, which was greatly enjoyed by all present and the attendance was large.

A double quartet furnished music, rendering several of the old war songs to the especial enjoyment of the veterans.

Rev. B. H. Macy sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and the quartet assisted in the chorus. The services throughout the day in our village were impressive. About 200 children joined in the march, carrying flags and flowers.

A batch of coal laden vessels arrived in port Thursday carrying 11,700 tons of coal, all consigned to Portsmouth.

Arthur Lane of New Hampshire College passed Thursday with his mother here.

A good idea of the size of the cruiser Yankee can be gained from the water as the revenue cutter Gresham lies alongside her. The Gresham is 200 feet long and had to be cut in two to get her from the Great Lakes into salt water, yet she is but half as long as the Yankee.

Tug M. Mitchell Davis sailed this morning for Dover Point to tow the schooner Lizzie J. Call to Portsmouth, where she will discharge her cargo of coal. The Call was consigned to Exeter, but the tug Iva, which had her in tow, broke her shaft and the Call was unable to reach her destination.

St. Aspidoch Tribe of Red Men will meet this evening at Grange Hall.

Albert Brown of Amesbury, Mass., passed the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Brown of The Intervene.

The opening of the Kittery Yacht Club was an unqualified success.

Elmer Manent of Lynn, Mass., passed the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Manent.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adlington of South Berwick passed Memorial day in town.

Miss Helen Ireland of Salem, Mass., was a visitor in town Thursday.

The recital in Trapp Academy Hall this evening will begin at eight o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Paul of Lynn, Mass., passed Memorial day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perkins of Conway, N. H., are visiting relatives here.

Miss Edna Bicknell of Dover passed yesterday with her mother at The Intervene.

Master Fred Rogers of Beachmont, Mass., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith of Government street.

Miss Eva Bunker is visiting in Essex, Mass.

Miss Beaul Whidden of Exeter, who has been passing a few days in town as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bickford of Pleasant street, has returned home.

A sermon to the graduating class will be delivered on Sunday, June 16, in Trapp Academy Hall at five o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. V. B. Bragdon of Kittery Point.

Mrs. John R. Wentworth, who has been confined to her home for the past three months, is again able to be out.

Mrs. Charles L. Philbrick and son Jesse are visiting relatives in Malden, Mass.

Kittery Point

What came very near proving a very disastrous fire occurred at eleven o'clock Thursday night, when the house of Mrs. Ellen Frisbee caught fire from a defective flue. The family was all in bed, but was aroused by smoke and just in time the fire was discovered in a sitting room down stairs. Help was summoned and the fire was extinguished before it had spread to adjoining rooms, but the room itself was gutted and nearly everything in it ruined. The loss will be over $100.

The many friends of Frisbee Brothers are congratulating them on their good fortune in discovering the fire in time, for it had burned a few minutes longer, the new store would have been burned, as well as the old store, now used as a storehouse, the house of Frank Frisbee and numerous outbuildings, all of which are situated close together.

During the month of May Capt. Arthur L. Hutchins, who was lately appointed collector for this locality for the United States fish commission, has collected spaw lobsters from the following fishermen: Kittery Point, Charles W. Tobey, 5; Charles H. Higgins, 5; Manning W. Lawry, 4; John E. Amee, 2; Wallace A. Hutchins, 2; Freeman Witham, 2; John Witham, 2; Charles B. Witham, 1; York, Herbert D. Philbrick, 22; Fred Langell, 1; M. Wear, 3; Wells, C. Stevens, 3; C. Eaton, 1; Isles of Shoals, D. Stanley, 4; C. Caswell, 1. These spaw lobsters are very rare and their delivery to the government fish hatchery at Boothbay means many thousands of young lobsters.

The many friends of Capt. Tom Cawley, who sailed from here mail-carrying in his sloop Mystic Belle last week will be glad to learn that on Monday he landed 3,100 large mackerel ten miles southeast of No Man's Land, Block Island Sound. These were the first fish caught there.

Miss Cora Blood is in Boston on business.

Capt. Walter S. Amee on Saturday launched his gasoline launch Nimbus.

What is thought to be a piece of the "shoe" of the schooner Lois V. Chaples, which has just discharged coal at Frisbee Brothers' wharf, has been discovered off the end of the wharf and is a danger to small boats coming in at low tide. It is fully twenty feet long and full of splinters.

Carl Thaxter of Portsmouth was in town on Saturday.

John Tobey of Manchester, N. H., passed Memorial day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tobey of Crockett's Neck.

The Cape Ann shore showed more plainly on Thursday than for years; the entire length of the cape could be distinctly seen and some claimed to see the twin towers on Thatcher's Island. Their lights were plainly visible at night.

Barge No. 25, one of three steel 3,000 ton barges recently built for the Consolidation Coal Company, was here on her first visit to this port on Thursday. The barges have but three masts instead of the four usually used in barges of the size and are not much in the way of good looks.

Eighty Years Old

Respected Resident of This City Attains Advanced Age

Samuel A. Hawkes, a lifelong and much respected resident of this city, on Memorial day quietly observed his eightieth birthday.

He received a large number of friends and relatives at his home, 25 Deer street, who brought to him flowers and gifts in honor of the day.

Mr. Hawkes is an old railroad man and at the time of his retirement was the oldest engineer on the Boston and Maine system. He is still vigorous and seems certain to enjoy many years of life.

Probate court will meet in Derry next Tuesday.

WON IN BOSTON

Local Gaelic Football Team Scored a Brilliant Victory.

The Grattan Athletic Club Gaelic football team went to South Boston on Memorial day where it met and defeated the strong Garie Owen team of that place by a score of seventeen to seven.

The teams were obliged to play extra ten minute periods to decide the result. The game was hotly contested every minute from start to finish, especially in the first two twenty minute periods, which ended after a hard battle with the score a tie, five to five.

The Boston club presented a crack team of players, picked from four fast teams in that vicinity and they meant to win from Portsmouth if it was possible to do so, but fate was against them and they went down in defeat.

The same clubs will meet here on July 4 for the championship of New England and if Portsmouth plays as well on that day as on Thursday the champion team will be located here.

The Portsmouth boys arrived home from the Pullman and a great crowd met them at the railroad station, where they were heartily cheered.

Later they gathered at Recharite Hall, where they were royally entertained in honor of the victory.

She is a Favorite

Miss Maude Isabel Entwistle, Portsmouth's famous actress, who is now playing in the West and British Columbia, is making a decided hit in the lively one-act comedy drama, "When the Widow Arrived," by Charles Horwitz. The company is meeting with much success and Miss Entwistle in her role is proving a favorite and is steadily advancing in her work before the footlights.

Great Quantities of Coal

There was a large arrival of coal laden crafts on Thursday, in fact, the largest fleet that has arrived here in one day in years. The fleet includes the schooner Mt. Hope, with 1,823 tons, Marie Palmer, with 3,000 tons, barge No. 17, with 1,618 tons; barge Oak Hill, with 1,555 tons; barge Trevorton, with 2,990 tons, and barge Baltic, with 871 tons, making in all 11,867 tons, to be unloaded at the North End docks. Most of the coal will be sent out of this city by rail.

Found Dead.

Mrs. Louisa Philbrook Moses Expires at Her Home on Islington Street.

Mrs. Louisa Philbrook Moses, widow of James Moses, was found dead at her home, No. 37 Islington street, Thursday afternoon by a relative. Mrs. Moses, who was about eighty-two years of age, has lived alone for some years, and when she was not seen about the house or did not call on any of the neighbors, an investigation was made by some of the relatives and neighbors. They found the house locked, and it was not until some children had been sent through the cellar to open a door that entrance was gained, and then she was found lying on the floor of her bedroom by a relative who entered the room. She was in her night clothes and had evidently been taken sick in the night and fell off the couch, on which she had been lying.

Medical Referee A. J. Lance was called, and after an examination, he pronounced death due to natural causes. Mrs. Moses was well and about the house on Wednesday afternoon. She leaves several nephews and nieces.

Important Notice

A special meeting of Carpenters and Joiners Local Union, No. 921, will be held Saturday evening next, June 1, in G. A. R. Hall at eight o'clock. Every member is hereby urged to be present.

ROBERT V. NOBLE, Recording Secretary.

The Weather for Tomorrow

(Special to The Herald) Washington, May 31—Generally fair weather, with a possibility of local showers and light, variable winds are the indications for Saturday.

A STRANGE TALE

Munchausen shoots a deer with cherry stones. Lifted into the air by the ducks strung together. Misses a young wild boar and leads a blind sow home. Meets in Warsaw General Skrybudsansky, noted for his silver plate trepanning. Pikas, the sporting dog, stands fourteen days on the same spot. The story of the hare with eight legs.

SECOND EVENING WITH MUNCHHAUSEN.

(Translated from the original German for The Herald)

Unquestionably you have heard of the patron of the fieldmen, the holy Hubert, and not less of the splendid deer with the sacred cross between the horns, which met him in the forest. To this sacred creature I have, annually, on Hubert's day, the third of November, offered my sacrifice, as well as represented him a crossed deer was given to the honor he is also seen embroiled in the stars of the Knight Hubert, so that I hardly know how to say whether such a crossed deer was given to honor and conscience of a field-man, long ago, or today.

But listen to a story that came to pass with me and another wonderful deer.

I had discharged all my lead, when, once, the splendid animal came face to face and looked at me very quietly, as if he knew my shot-lag was empty. Now wait, there will be trouble, I thought, loaded, my gun quickly with powder and over it a handful of cherry stones, for I had just devoured two pounds of cherries. My deer looked at me as if mocking—and bang! I gave him the full discharge in the middle of the forehead between the horns. He shook his head several times, made an abstinence to me, turned his back and slowly withdrew deeper into the forest. Pity that I had no deer post at hand. At home, I should have laughed out heartily and when we eat cherries, a lesser would surely have gathered the stones for my next deer hunt.

At last, gradually, the joke became spite; but one or two years after, we were hunting in the same quarter, when there came towards me an unusually strong deer with a cherry tree ten feet high, between his horns. Naturally, my earlier shot with the cherry-stones occurred to me. Manifestly, the splendid fellow was my long-ago well-earned property. Therefore I sent a ball quickly to him, on a leaf, and when he fell to the ground I had food for roasting and compote, for the tree hung full of the most delicate, ripe cherries.

We live to see many things. What do you say to the following wonderful experience, for example?

You know we caught mice with bacon, but I once caught thirteen ducks with bacon and it happened in this way:

One morning I noticed while I was preparing for an excursion that the cord, on which my powder-horn hung, was almost worn through and very thin in two places; and as it hung down, I wondered how long the thing would hold! Exactly towards evening I came by a small lake, upon which a dozen ducks, very scattered, were swimming round, so that I could not possibly get more than one with one shot and yet I should like to have had them all together, because I had invited a small company of gentle-

The Cause of Many

Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because of its deceptive nature. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance, the kidneys become clogged with blood and attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Klinger's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Klinger & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Klinger's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

men for the following day. They were already near. Great Forest! I clutched my powder-horn, and, truly, it was gone. By squeezing through a pine grove the cord was torn and must have broken off without my being aware of it.

Altogether it was an unfortunate day. In early morning, an old witch, the red-haired Katherine ran to me across the way, and I did not have one shot the whole day.

Sad! and now I had only one single charge in the gun, and how could one single duckling help me?

In this strait I found a little piece of bacon which I had taken in my pocket for a lunch. If untasted a tolerably long dog-leash and made a cord four times as long, then I fastened the piece of bacon on it, concealed myself in the reed-like bushes on the bank, and threw out the line. I watched with pleasure as the nearest duck swam towards it and gulped down the bit of bacon fastened thereon, in order to bring the slippery morsel soon to light again, by which the nearest duck immediately swallowed it, so that after a little while, since the same thing repeated itself every time, thirteen were in a row on the string.

Very much gratified over the result of this, I twisted the cord with the little creatures, twice round my body and took the road homewards. Gradually, this became somewhat uncomfortable to me, when, suddenly, I felt myself lifted high in the air. For, do you think, all the ducks, still entirely alive, after they had recovered from the first shock, fluttering, caught and lifted me, with united strength, into the air. At first, though a little surprised, I soon regained my self-possession and rowed with the flaps of my coat toward my dwelling.

I found myself, shortly, just above the chimney of my house, and meantime, with quick presence of mind, I crushed the head of one duck against the head of the others, and sank slowly deeper and came, it must be admitted, not quite to the customary way, through the chimney upon the kitchen hearth, in good condition, to the greatest surprise of the cook, who was about to kindle the fire to prepare the evening meal. My faithful companion in the daily hunt, Pikas, a favorite pointer, sealing the unusual way and shaking his head to his master, had gone before and by barking and scratching at the house door, had tried to attract attention. Yes, yes, my dear friends, with bacon, we catch mice and ducks! To be sure, there is luck in all such things. But luck and chance make, even a mistake, good again.

For example, I saw once a young wild boar and a wild sow in a thick forest, trotting close behind one another. So away I went and easily, aimed at the mother, then at the son—doubting whether I should kill either of them. At last I fired—the young boar trotted again. The mother stopped as if rooted to the ground. That must be enquired into at once! There stood the old sow, and was—blind. Between the teeth she had a small piece of the tail of the boar and my ball had just hit this little thin tail—whereupon the youngling had sprung away and the blind mother, deprived of her guide, remained standing. Comprehending the situation, I seized the rudimentary tail and guided the animal to my dwelling, where I called my wife that she might see what kind of wild game had run into the kitchen. You will hardly find an opportunity to imitate this trick!

About that time I became acquainted in Warsaw with an old general, whose name you have surely heard often. His name is Skrybudsansky, and he was injured in a war with the Turks by a splinter from a cartridge ball, which had taken a piece from his skull; but he wore a silver plate as a compensation, which was regulated by means of a hinge, so it could open and shut. We were together daily in a wine room where liquor was taken.

It happened shortly, that when we all got dark red faces, because the Hungarian wine went to our heads, the old gentleman now and then ran his fingers through his hair and then directly became pale and sober. The others found that quite correct and informed me that the general lowered the silver plate from time to time and let all of the dimes of the wine escape. In order to convince myself if this were really so, I placed myself, casually, near the General with a burning paper match, but instead of lighting my pipe, I set on fire the streaming fumes from his head—and look there! they burnt with beautiful bluish flames, and the General, who had noticed my manoeuvre, sat there laughing like the holy St. Nicholas with the beautiful aureola! The arrangement pleased me so that I discussed with a goldsmith whether he could not contrive such a precaution for remaining sober? He said "yes, but I must be trepanned beforehand or wait for the next war to have a piece of my cranium blown off." The first I have not done and the other I have waited daily till now and so unfortunately the valve is wanting that is not so necessary here as there in the north where the people are given to stronger heat!

Lately, they have enquired whether I consider Finesse or Pikas, the superior?

Now, both hunting dogs were noted in their way. Finesse had perhaps a handsomer nose but Pikas had more endurance. Now listen:

A short time after my marriage, my wife expressed a wish to hunt with me, and I rode forward, in order to spy out something and it did not take long before Pikas stood in front of a row of a few hundred hens. I waited a long time for my wife, who came behind with my lieutenant and a groom. At last I was uneasy and turned round because I heard about half way a lamentable weeping and moaning which appeared to me to be very near, although far and wide, no one could be seen. Naturally, I dismounted and put my ear to the ground, and now I heard that the moaning came from the interior of the earth, could also plainly distinguish the voices of my wife, of the lieutenant and of the groom. But how did they come there? Plainly they must be plunged in the opening of a mineral coal pit and that, I knew, was toward ninety fathoms deep.

In full gallop, I raced to the nearest village to bring the mountain people and after wearisome labor we brought the lost ones to the light. First the groom came out, then his horse, then the lieutenant and his horse and at last my wife and her Turkish pony; the most amazing part of the whole affair, that all six, by the sudden plunge of between five and six hundred feet deep, excepting a few contusions, were completely unharmed. You! my friends, we must have just good luck.

It was not possible to think of a more distant hunt and it was well that we turned back promptly to the house, because a courier was already there waiting for me, who brought an order to set out at once on an official journey. Of the most interesting orders, which took me to the Fortress Wesel, I may tell you another time. Enough, that, on the way, it occurred to me, what could have happened to Pikas, the sporting dog? Exactly on the fourteenth day I came back and my first question concerned the dog. No one had seen him and every one thought Pikas had accompanied me on my journey. Instantly the thought came to me, "could the dog be, a all with the hens?"

Hope and fear took me immediately to the neighborhood, in the traveling costume which I had on—and look here! to my unspeakable joy, the faithful Pikas was standing in the same place where I had left him a fortnight before. "Come on, my little dog," I cried; directly he leaped up, the cartridges flew up with a whirling noise and at one shot I got five and twenty birds. I do not believe any of you ever saw anything like it!

The brave Pikas was so hungry and so exhausted that he could scarcely crawl to me and lick my hand—I was obliged to take him on the house and so bring him home, where he soon recovered with good nursing and a few weeks later made it possible for me to solve a riddle that heretofore had seemed insoluble.

Namely, I hunted two entire days behind a hare. Pikas used to bring it round again and yet I could not get a shot.

It is not my business to believe in witches, though I have met with extraordinary things; but here I was at the end of my five senses. At last, the hare came near enough for me to reach him with my gun. He fell beneath the gun. Of course I hardly took the time, first, to load freshly, then I sprang to, for Pikas was not quite ready to fetch and carry, and what do you suppose that I saw?

The hare had, like every other, four legs under his body and also four on his back.

Now was the enigma of his enormous speed made clear, for when the hare had run till he was tired on the under pair, he threw himself, like a good swimmer who can swim, round on stomach and back, and then the four feet went up again with renewed rapidity.

If you acknowledge truly, I doubt if you have ever seen so wonderfully gifted a hare. "I have never seen anything like it before."

KITTERY WINS

Plays Two Baseball Games And Wins Both

Kittery's baseball team celebrated the holiday by winning two games from Newburyport Y. M. C. A. on Kittery Field.

Newburyport started out to win the morning game, scoring four runs in the first inning, but after that could do nothing, while the Kittery players began to pound the ball and pile up runs, taking the lead in the seventh and holding it.

Jimmy Able blossomed out as a pitcher, and after a bad first inning, did good work.

The score:

DETECTIVES TO GUARD GUNS.

No Unauthorized Persons Will Be Allowed to Inspect Fort Monroe.

The War Department, following out a recommendation of General Frederick D. Grant, commanding the Division of the Atlantic has authorized Colonel George E. F. Harris of the artillery corps, the commanding officer of Fort Monroe, Va., to employ, during the existence of the Jamestown exposition, ten private detectives, whose duty it shall be to see that no unauthorized persons get within the new fortifications guarding the entrance to Hampton Roads. Fort Monroe is not far from Jamestown and the site of the exposition. These detectives will be put on guard because of the great number of foreigners who will visit Norfolk and vicinity in the six months, the exposition will be open. This is the first time in the history of the country it is said, that private detectives have been authorized for this work.

The regulation, which is a recent one, under which the war department acted, is as follows:

Commanding officers of posts at which are located lake or coast defence are charged with the responsibility of preventing, as far as practicable, visitors from obtaining information relative to such defences which would be communicated to a foreign power, and to this end may prescribe and enforce appropriate regulations governing visitors to these posts. American citizens whose loyalty to their government is unquestioned may be permitted to visit such portions of the defences as the commanding officer deems proper.

The new Fort Monroe is one of the most modern in equipment on the Atlantic seaboard. Its armament is the most modern, the main batteries consisting of new guns of the highest calibre, fitted with every device for controlling of their fire. There are eight full companies of coast artillery stationed in the fortifications, these companies being the Sixth, Thirteenth, Thirty-fifth, Forty-first, Fifty-eighth, Sixty-ninth, Seventy-third and 118th companies of coast artillery.

THE HARDEST WOOD.

(From the New York Tribune.)
Recent tests of the hardwoods of Western Australia have revealed the extraordinary properties of yate, believed to be strongest of all known woods. Its average tensile strength is 24,000 pounds to the square inch, equalling that of cast iron. Many specimens are much stronger, and one was tested up to 17 1/2 tons to the square inch, which is equal to the tensile strength of wrought iron. The sawn timber of yate is probably the strongest in the world. The tree grows to a maximum height of 100 feet, and has sometimes a diameter of 2 1/2 or even 3 feet.

Seasonable delicacies for the table come high.

A MUSICAL TREAT

Recital At Peirce Hall On Wednesday Evening

MRS. MARY MONTGOMERY BRACKETT
ASSISTED BY MRS. HELEN A. HUNT

There was a fashionable and musical audience at Peirce Hall on Wednesday evening who thoroughly enjoyed the musical treat afforded them by Mrs. Mary Montgomery Brackett of this city, who was assisted by Miss Helen Allen Hunt of Boston, and that peerless accompanist, Miss Lida Low at the piano.

Mrs. Brackett was never in better voice nor was her beautiful soprano voice ever heard to better advantage than in the program she had selected for the recital. All of her numbers were of exceptional charm, but it was in a series of children's songs that she showed that charming personality which has endeared her to the music loving people of this city and elsewhere. In her duets with Mrs. Hunt, there was a blending of voices which is seldom heard, and all of their numbers were heartily applauded.

Mrs. Hunt needed no introduction to a Portsmouth audience, for her fine voice has been heard here many times and she was afforded a warm welcome. She was in excellent voice and all of her selections were gems.

Miss Lida Low, without any exception the finest accompanist ever heard in this city, added greatly to the pleasure of the affair. Her accompaniments are really masterpieces, and that to the great Angelus, by Chaminade, was of excellent merit.

The following was the program:

1. Duets.
  - (a) "Marine"..... Massenet
  - (b) "Lerchengesang"..... Lassen
2. Songs for soprano.
  - (a) "Komm wir wandeln".....Cornelius
  - (b) "Chant d'Exile"..... Vidal
  - (c) "Botschaft"..... Brahms
3. Songs for contralto.
  - (a) "Dream in Twilight".....Strauss
  - (b) "Les Cigales".....Chabrier
  - (c) "To Phyllida".....Del Riego
  - (d) "The Skee".....Clough-Leighton
4. Duets.
  - (a) "Angelus".....Chaminade
  - (b) "Ave Maria".....Saint-Saens
5. Children's song for soprano.
  - "Seven bells that chime,
Seven songs that rhyme,
May gentle hands ring them,
And loving hearts sing them."
  - (a) "The Clucking Hen,"
"Kindergarten"
  - (b) "The sad, sad story of Lord
Firefly and pretty Mistress
Midge"..... Grant-Schaefer
  - (c) "The Sandman".....Grant-Schaefer
  - (d) "The Cuckoo Clock," Grant-Schaefer
  - (e) "The Captain".....Rogers
  - (f) "The Woodpecker".....Nevin
  - (g) "Scotch Lullaby".....Glover
6. Flower songs for Contralto.
  - (a) "Violets".....Cornelius
  - (b) "Daisies".....Hawley
  - (c) "Pussy Willow".....Mildenburg
  - (d) "The Four-Leaf Clover," Brownell
  - (e) "The Wild Rose".....Gaynor
  - (f) "The Blue Bell".....Mac Dowel
  - (g) "The Seed's Song".....Woodman
7. Songs for soprano.
  - (a) "Phyllis has such charming graces".....Old English
  - (b) "Who'll buy my Lavender?"
German
  - (c) "A Pastral".....Old English
8. Duets.
  - (a) "Oh! that we two were Maying".....Nevin
  - (b) "Birds' Farewell".....Hildach

MRS. PROSSER IN TOWN.

Will Not Leave Until After Depositions on Saturday.

Mrs. Madeline A. Prosser, the wife of W. A. Prosser, the plaintiff in the suit for alienation of his wife's affections, brought this week against Lieut. Fogarty, U. S. N., has not left this city, as reported, but is still at No. 41 State street, where she is keeping under cover and is not seeing anybody. The impression was given at the house that she was gone, but she was found there on Wednesday evening and declared her intention of remaining until she was wanted Saturday for depositions.

SPRING AILMENTS.

MR. A. W. HULL.

A man and a house need the same thing in spring—a good cleaning out. A certain amount of impurities have gathered in the body during the winter. I am no authority for house cleaning. So far as the man is concerned, Cooper's New Discovery taken for two weeks will bring the desired result. It will positively clean out the stomach and bowels, tone up the system generally, and bring back the snap to body and mind that now seem dull and worn out. Try it and see if you won't be as pleased as Mr. Hull, whose letter I quote below:

"I suffered a general breaking down of the system. Had no appetite, poor digestion and was constipated. I lost ambition and took no interest in anything. Nothing I could do seemed to give me relief until upon a friend's advice I began to use Cooper's New Discovery. It helped me from the start. Now I am able to do as much work as the next one and I enjoy it. I have a hearty appetite and am stronger and better every way. Your New Discovery medicine is certainly the best tonic and system builder I have ever known." A. W. Hull, 142 Porter St., Detroit, Mich.

These are the famous medicines with which Mr. Cooper recently created such a stir in Chicago. His demonstrations there attracted wide attention. We are agents.

AN EASY VICTORY.

Dartmouth Put It All Over Exeter on Wednesday.

Dartmouth easily defeated Phillips Exeter Academy at Exeter on Wednesday by a score of eight to one. The academicians were totally outclassed and were lucky to be beaten no worse. In the first two innings they suffered from a bad case of stage fright and though they improved as the game progressed, they were never in the hunt.

Sid Hazelton, last year with the York Beach team, pitched fine ball for Dartmouth, allowing but two hits. Greenstein, Richardson, Schildmiller and McLane, all members of the York Beach team, played with Dartmouth and did excellent work. Becker, who did much of the box work for York Beach last summer, was on the Dartmouth bench. He will probably pitch today against Holy Cross at Worcester.

Third base was covered for Exeter by Connelly, still another member of the York Beach team. He did by far the best work for his team.

The score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Dartmouth	3	2	1	0	1	0	0	3	9
Exeter	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	2

Batteries—Hazelton and Schoppeler; White and Ledy. Umpire—Ryan.

WON AND LOST.

Dover Baseball Team Began the Season on Thursday.

Dover's new York and Stratford County baseball team, largely made up of Portsmouth players, won and lost on Thursday. The morning game with South Berwick was a five to three victory. Brice of St. Anselm's College pitching a great game for Dover.

In the afternoon, Frank Newell pitched for Dover against Somersworth, with Win Adams of Brown last summer at York Beach, in the box. Somersworth won four to two, because of bad fielding on the part of Dover in the first two innings. After that, it was a pitcher's battle and a good one, with honors about even between the two artists.

The star of the game for Dover was Sperry Looko, who batted and fielded like a big leaguer. His three-bagger was the longest hit of the game. In the morning he was also a star, making three of Dover's five runs and batting in a fourth. He is captain of the team.

Dover has Bobby Rowe, Tommy Lynsky, Harry Cragen and Jim Goodrich of this city, besides the other two players named. Clarence Clark was also on the Dover bench and was sent in to bat in the ninth. Bill Sheridan, also of Portsmouth, was the umpire.

The comparatively small number of robins in and about the city this spring has occasioned much comment among bird lovers.

No. 5, Ranger Section, No. 7, Naval League, James H. Dow, chairman.

The parade marched to the cemetery through Congress to Islington, to Cabot, to Middle streets, to Richard avenue to the cemetery.

After the exercises the line moved through South to Pleasant, to State to Middle, to Congress streets to Market square, where a dress parade was given by the Marines and Company B. At the conclusion the column was dismissed.

Kittery Memorial Day.

Kittery observed Memorial day exercises in its usual elaborate manner, the manoeuvres going off very smoothly and being witnessed by a large number of people.

The exercises began at eight a. m., when the members of B. G. Parker Post assembled at headquarters and marched to the navy yard. At the main gate the post was met by a detachment of the United States marine guard and escorted to the navy yard cemetery, where the graves of fallen comrades were decorated with the usual ceremonies, volleys being fired at their conclusion.

On the navy yard bridge, returning, the line was halted while the school children observed the always pretty ceremony of scattering flowers upon the water as a tribute to fallen comrades of the navy, the schools being formed on the east side of the bridge. As these ceremonies were finished the band played "America" and the bugle sounded taps, and the line was formed for the march to Orchard Grove cemetery. In the procession were the naval band, detachment of marine guard, Camp No. 20, Sons of Veterans; Post No. 99, Grand Army, Woman's Relief Corps and auxiliary associations and the scholars of the Austin, Wentworth, Horace Mitchell, Dennett and other schools of the town, the whole forming a long and very pretty line.

On arriving at Orchard Grove cemetery, the following exercises were observed:

- Prayer by Rev. Daniel Onstott.
- Music by Naval band.
- Reading of orders.
- Singing by public schools.
- Music by naval band.
- Reading of President Lincoln's Gettysburg address.
- Singing of war song by High School chorus.
- Decoration of graves by post, band playing a dirge.
- Singing of war songs by High School chorus.
- Address by Hon. Moses A. Safford.
- Music by Naval band.
- Singing of "America" by public schools, in which the public joined.
- Firing of three volleys by Marine guard.
- Taps.
- Benediction by Rev. Edward Hallett Macy.

Considering the scarcity of flowers on account of the cold and backward season, the decorations were very handsome and profuse, and the members of the post can be congratulated on having done so well in the face of all difficulties.

After the decorating ceremonies the column was reformed, marched back to headquarters and disbanded at 11.30 a. m.

At 1 p. m. members of E. G. Parker Post, Sons of Veterans and Ladies auxiliary, Sons of Veterans, took a special car for York Corner, where they took part in the exercises in that town.

Exercises for the day took place at the cemetery. Exercises for the day concluded with the memorial services held at 7 p. m., at the Second Christian Church under the auspices of Camp No. 20, Sons of Veterans, U. S. A., department of Maine. The public was invited to this service and many availed themselves of the opportunity to be present.

The exercises were a complete success from start to finish and reflect much credit upon the officers of the post, who have evidently not at all lost their martial ability.

York Exercises.

Memorial day exercises in York were held in their usual order, Thursday, beginning with music at 1.15 p. m. by the Salmon Falls military band, which has performed there on previous years. At 1.45 the veterans formed and marched to York Corner, where they received the special car containing the Kittery Sons of Veterans and the Ladies' auxiliary, which arrived at 1.55.

Free to Rheumatism
Sufferers

A Full-sized 75c Bottle of Urice-O, The Only Absolute Cure for Rheumatism Ever Discovered

Write For It Today

We want every man or woman who suffers from Rheumatism and has lost faith in remedies to write us today for an absolutely free trial of the famous Smith Prescription Urice-O for Rheumatism. Urice-O will cure it and cure it to stay cured. No faith is required while taking this superb remedy. You take it according to directions, and you will be cured in spite of yourself and any doubts you may have as to its efficacy. We don't ask you to buy Urice-O on faith. We'll buy a large 75c bottle for you and make you a present of it, if you will agree to take it according to directions.

We could not afford to do this if we didn't have all the confidence in the world in Urice-O, and know that after you are cured you would have no hesitancy about recommending the remedy to all your friends and acquaintances who are suffering from Rheumatism. This is the method that has made Urice-O famous wherever introduced. The cure of several so-called Rheumatic Incurables in a community means a steady sale of Urice-O for that vicinity. Urice-O is good for Rheumatism and Rheumatism only. It acts upon the blood by driving the uric and poisonous rheumatic acid from the system. This is the only way Rheumatism can ever be cured and it is the Urice-O way. Most druggists sell Urice-O, but if you want to test it out on this notice and mail it today with your name and address and the name of your druggist to The Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., and they will send you a full-sized 75c bottle free.

Urice-O is sold and recommended in Portsmouth by Goodwin E. Philbrick.

Returning, the marched to the Soldiers monument at the Village, near which a tall flagpole had been erected for the occasion. From there the veterans marched to the cemetery and decorated the graves of fallen comrades, while a prayer was delivered by Rev. S. K. Perkins of the Congregational Church.

Reforming, the comrades marched to the First Congregational church, where an eloquent address by Hon. Luther C. Bateman of Lewiston and fine music by the combined choirs, under the direction of Miss Katherine E. Marshall, concluded the exercises.

MARBLE TABLET

To Men Of Co. D, U. S. M. C., To Be Unveiled

A marble memorial tablet is to be erected at the marine barracks on June 11, which will be in memory of the members of Company D, U. S. M. C., who were killed in the Spanish war in Cuba. There were two of these men from this barracks. The tablet will be a very pretty piece of work and it will be unveiled with proper ceremony on the afternoon of June 11. Senator Henry E. Burnham of Manchester has consented to deliver the address, and others who have accepted invitations to be present are Congressman Sulloway and Adj. Gen. William Sullivan of the N. H. N. G.

CLAIM A LIEN ON THE RACE TRACK PROPERTY.

Boston and Maine Railroad Ask Court to Decide That They Are Preferred Creditors.

A hearing was held on Wednesday before Judge Wallace in the Superior court on the case of the Boston and Maine railroad vs. the Salem Track or the New England Breeders' Club. The Boston and Maine railroad claim that they built a station and a large number of sidetracks into the grounds; that they did not finish their contract before the racing season was opened and, therefore, were not bound by the ninety day rule in filing their claim, but are preferred creditors and have a lien on the property. J. W. Kelley and Page and Bartlett appeared for the railroad and John Scammon for the trustees.

The case was not finished and it will be taken up in this city next Wednesday. Judge Wallace adjourned court on Wednesday at Exeter and he will be in this city next week to hear court cases.

PORTSMOUTH DEFEATED.

Newburyport Heavy Hitters Fall on Quinn

Newburyport High school defeated Portsmouth H. S. at Newburyport Memorial day morning in a fierce slugging match ten to eight. The local lads played the best kind of ball, with a few exceptions, and lost by hard luck. Quinn, the Portsmouth crack, was not in the best of form and was pounded for twelve hits with a total of twenty, while he gave six bases on balls. The Newburyport boys had good luck throughout the game, however, and at least four of their twelve hits were of the scratch variety.

The game was close and hard fought for the first three innings, but in the fourth Newburyport struck a batting streak and, when the side was finally retired, the score was five to three in their favor. The local boys crawled up by timely hits and the game was anybody's until the seventh, when Newburyport increased its total by three.

Newburyport got two more in the eighth and the Portsmouth lads seemed hopelessly beaten, but timely hits suddenly changed the state of affairs. The local boys scored three times and seemed due to tie the score but Huntington steadied down and when a throw from Condon caught Brackett trying to steal, the side was retired.

The features of the game were the fierce battling of Huntington for Newburyport, and the playing of Ham and Driscoll with Treddick's balling for Portsmouth.

A BEASTLY BIG THING

A Whole Performing Menagerie In One Arena

When the Frank A. Robbins and Company all new great feature shows were being organized, the New York City spoke of them as "The Birth of the Big One," and that description may be extended to that stupendous introduction in one arena in simultaneous performances of almost every species of wild and domesticated beasts that can be safely handled in the open before an audience, and with enough brains to learn every trick possible to the limitations of quadruped anatomy.

This colossal cosmopolitan assemblage of wise mammoths and cute and cunning creatures includes elephants, zebras, water buffalo, camels, dogs, goats, horses, llamas, ponies, donkeys, dromedaries, mules, bears, monkeys and sacred cattle, and has cost its originator, Manager Robbins, a big lot of both "the long green" and trouble, but the years of expenditure, experiment and patient training have at length found ample reward in most impressive, surprising and amusing results.

This millennium-like feature and all the other wild beasts, circus and hippodrome acts of the enterprise named will be brought to us by special railroad trains on Tuesday, June 11.

AN EXAMPLE TO OTHERS.

The rude carving on the headstone shown here represents a young lady who died from the effects of tight lacing, and she appears to be in evident discomfort from the evils of the practice. Beneath this figure is a smaller one showing a man on horseback, riding, it is supposed, to fetch the doctor. This extremely quaint memorial is to be seen in the ancient churchyard of Springkell, near Ecclefechan.

DOG BRINGS UP KITTENS.

The Foster Mother Satisfied, Though Sometimes Surprised.

Down in Delaware City, Del., a young mother dog, when she turned to lick her four new born puppies, found they did not respond to her tender care. They had come into the world lifeless.

They were her firstborn and she was puzzled and grieved that they paid no attention to the soft caresses with which she strove to woo them to her. She finally ceased in despair, and looking about her spied a mother pussy, to whom a pair of healthy kittens had just arrived.

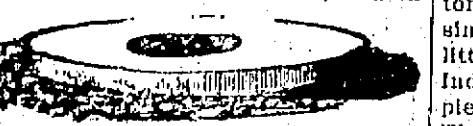

Jealous and indignant she flew to the happy mother and seized and shook her till the cat fled in terror and did not return. Then the dog, taking the kittens tenderly in her mouth, carried them to her box and adopted them as her own. There were only two babies in place of her four, but not being able to count she did not notice the lack.

The kittens accepted the situation, thrived and waxed fat, but since they are older and have become playful their conduct sometimes astonishes their foster mother.

For instance, when they chase each other up a tree she looks after them with amusement and solicitude, apparently reflecting that she never behaved that way when she was a puppy, and as soon as they alight on the ground again she seizes them in her mouth and carries them reprovingly back to their box. There are probably other surprises in store for her when she finds that their language, instead of being a bark, is a spit or a mew, but in the meantime she is happy and self-satisfied—Country Life in America.

RAINMAKING DEVICE.

A Ussukuma chief has invented this original apparatus for making rain. At the entrance to his village a flat stone has been hollowed out, and in the empty two stone pots are placed. Behind the stone two pots are buried in the ground. The magician collects sacred herbs, places them in the hollow of the stone, beats them with the stone balls, then transfers the beaten mass to the two pots. The Ussukuma chief claims this process never has failed to attract rain.

TWO STRANGE TREES.

The Mojave Yucca a Vegetable Freak—The Creeping Oak of Monterey.

California has one tree which is the personification of mystery. Found nowhere else in the world, it has a mysterious origin and thrives in a region of mystery.

The Mojave yucca is a vegetable freak which has developed into a species. It has the characteristics of several plants, to which no relationship can be traced.

It is an endogen, yet its bark shows concentric rings such as characterize the exogenous stems. It lives and thrives in great numbers in a region early devoid of vegetation, in a land of heat and thirst and barrenness.

Another tree, in California which has a peculiar personality is the creeping oak of Monterey.

Nowhere in the vegetable kingdom can be found so true a representative of monopoly. The tree is of gnarly growth, its limbs, like those of the yucca, bending and twisting in all directions.

Wherever a branch touches the earth it takes root and becomes, as it were, another trunk, though still a branch of the main stem, drawing nourishment both from the parent stem and from the new source. In this manner the tree is spread till it has taken possession of live acres of ground and it is still advancing.

ODDMUSEUM FREAKS

RARE ANTIQUITIES TO BE SEEN IN KANSAS CITY.

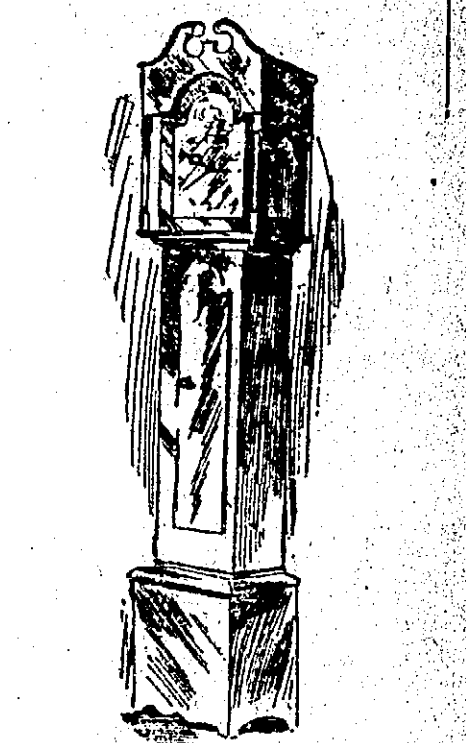

Bones of an Unnamed Beast That Was 400 Feet Long—An Interesting Old Clock.

In the Kansas City museum are the skull bones of an unknown beast that was 400 feet long and 60 or 80 feet high. The skull in the museum weighs 440 pounds, is seven and a half feet in diameter, and from the tip of the nasal bone to the top of the head the distance is 12 feet. The eye sockets are four feet across. The brain cavity will hold half a bushel. A portion of a rib of this animal found near the skull is 14 feet long. From this a section seven feet long had been broken. Perhaps the rib was even longer when it was intact.

"Naturalists have been unable to name this animal," an attendant at the museum said. "They say that, judging from proportions, it must have been 350 or 400 feet long and 60 or 80 feet high. Think of an animal more than a block long and as high as some four-story business buildings. The skull of this beast was found on Little Bear creek in the Cherokee strip in September, 1893. R. H. Phelps of Wichita, Kan., found a part of the rib protruding from a sand bar. An excavation was made and the remainder of the animal was exhumed."

In another section of the museum are several teeth from the head of a mammoth. These bits of bone are a foot tall and about two feet wide. One of them will weigh more than 50 pounds. They were found in Oklahoma.

And then there are "samples" of another animal, a smaller one. These are bones of a mastodon, a beast which in prehistoric days grew into enormous size. Some of the bones of its body are nine inches in diameter. One of its teeth is as large as the crown of a man's hat. These bones were found in an excavation at Second street and Lydia avenue June 27, 1900.

But the bones of animals are only one of the fascinating displays at the museum. There are oriental collections, Egyptian relics, Indian pieces—curios in endless numbers. It would take a person a week to examine the Indian curios alone. The arrow-heads, tomahawks, pipes, beadwork moccasins, are there in hundred lots. One little beaded belt, made by a Crow Indian woman, is said to be the finest piece of work ever seen in the west. The belt is about two inches wide, the body of buckskin. It is covered with thousands of colored beads, worked in so that they show a series of American Beauty roses.

There are arrow heads in the museum, collected all the way from New York to San Francisco. There is one large display of them, gathered in and around Kansas City. They were made many years ago by the Wyandotte, Shawnee and Creek tribes. Some old mortars and pestles, used by the Indians around this section of the west, for preparing food, are also on display in the museum. They seem so old and crude.

"One old relic of which we are very proud," said the custodian of the museum, "is this old Seth Thomas clock, made in Plymouth. It is one of the old grandfather's variety, a clock made entirely of wood. Its cogwheels are of wood, its regulator of wood. With the exception of the hands and a few wires used as pins there is no steel or iron in it. There are few of these clocks in existence."

One of the rarest collections in the museum is the property of Mrs. Clark Salmon, obtained from the orient. Curved ivory and mahogany images, trink

THE WORLD GIVES UP.

There is little hope for the Democratic party from the viewpoint of the New York World. Mr. Pulitzer's paper has been hoping against hope that the party has tried to support for so many years would eventually wake up and land itself somewhere, but despair has evidently settled in a dark cloud upon the World editorial rooms. With grief, the appropriation of every five issue by the Republicans has been noted and now there seems to be nothing left.

For many years the Democracy has been trailing blindly behind the procession. It has lacked the courage to take the initiative when it might have won by doing so. Even when it did gain brief success, it was unable to hold its advantage. Its last victory in 1892 was more disastrous than a dozen ordinary defeats would have been. There has never been a Democratic party worth reckoning with since.

In 1896, fearing its free trade issue, the Democracy began to preach the false doctrine of free silver and lost. In 1900, it went before the country with a number of unpopular policies, and again went down in defeat. Demoralized and despairing, it went into the campaign of 1904 without policies and was nearly driven off the earth. It is hardly to be wondered at that the Democratic party today bears little resemblance to the party of Jefferson or Jackson. Even the Jeffersonian Democrats, for the most part, known as little of the real policies of the man they claim to follow as it is possible for them to know.

That the World is disgusted is not surprising. The only surprising thing is that it has so long remained loyal to the Democracy, only refusing to support it when it became so erratic that it was impossible to make up one's mind what it really stood for. It seriously stood for anything at all. Evidently, the World has hoped that a real Democratic party might again come into existence. The victory of Parker in the convention of 1904, was, in a large measure, a World victory, but Parker failed to do what the World had hoped. He, neither stood for a definite policy nor succeeded in rallying around him the rank and file of his party. It was a hard blow, enough to take the courage out of the bravest man or newspaper.

Forced repeatedly to support Republican officeholders and Republican policies, The World is probably undecided whether it is really a Democratic paper or not. According to present indications, it would not take very much more to induce it to abandon altogether what looks very much like a sinking political ship.

PROOF ACCUMULATES

Proof accumulates that there is absolutely no reason why the biggest ships of the navy should not be sent to Portsmouth navy yard for repairs. The passage from the harbor of the old floating dry dock without the slightest difficulty was itself an impressive object lesson of the ease of navigating Portsmouth Harbor. No battleship ever built could be as difficult to handle as that awkward hulk and yet it was taken from the navy yard to the open sea without a hitch of any kind.

The Herald has consistently maintained that the fears of navy yard officials that there might be danger in sending battleships around Henderson's Point were entirely groundless.

That this paper is right is proven by the pictures showing the old dry dock rounding the point which has so long been a bugbear. There is room and to spare on both sides of the dock and deep water for almost the entire width of the river. Ships entering Portsmouth Harbor are not forced to keep in a narrow channel to avoid running aground. With anything like good seamanship, there is no reason why any vessel should not come up to the navy yard or to this city with water enough beneath the keel to accommodate a battleship twice as big as any now afloat.

The men who bought the old dry dock did not hesitate to send it around Henderson's Point and out of the harbor. They knew that there was room enough and depth of water enough. The Piscataqua River pilots would without hesitation undertake to bring up to the navy yard as many ships of the Dreadnought type as it might be desired to send here and they would bring them all up in safety. While we repeatedly read of warships going ashore at the entrances to other harbors, ships pass in and out of Portsmouth Harbor in absolute security. It is the difference between a port without depth of water and one deeper than is necessary for the floating of any ship of which man has ever dreamed.

Henderson's Point is a bug-a-boo. It never interfered with navigation in this harbor and it never will. It was well enough to remove it, but it was by no means necessary to do so. We do not attempt to say that its removal is not an improvement, but we do insist that it was in no way a menace to any ship which might enter the port.

BIRD'E-EYE VIEWS.

Some men don't like Mr. Roosevelt because he has put the people wise.

By preparing for war in time of peace, we often avoid the necessity of fighting.

The country doesn't appear to be very keenly excited over the Haywood trial.

It is admitted that navies cost a lot of money, but they are handy things to have around.

The Napoleons of finance sometimes seem to forget that Napoleon had his Waterloo.

Judge Gray might make a good president, but he will hardly have a chance to show us.

Wellman is getting ready for his dash to the pole. If memory serves, he got ready last year, too.

Knowledge is power, perhaps, but in these latter days knowledge seems to require the assistance of money.

St. Thomas Lipton seems to have forgotten about the America's cup. We rather hope that Tom won't try again, for we dislike to beat so good a fellow too often.

This is a free country, but there are some men among the Socialist speakers and writers who do not seem to recognize the difference between liberty and license.

PRESENCE OF MIND.

(From Harper's Weekly.)

A negro minister from Georgia, who was visiting friends in New York City, went one Sunday to the Cathedral on Fifth avenue.

He was very much impressed by the service, especially by the choirboys in the processional and recessional. When he returned to the South he resolved to introduce the same thing into his church; so he collected fifteen or twenty little girls, and drilled them until he had them well trained.

One Sunday the congregation were greatly surprised to see the choirboys marching in, singing the processional. The minister noticed that something was wrong; the boy in front was not carrying anything. He leaned over the pulpit, and in order to avoid attracting attention, he chanted in tune to the song they were singing:

"What have you done with the incense-pot?"

The little dandy, with great presence of mind, chanted back:

"I left it in the aisle—it was too damn hot!"

ARGONAUTS WON

The Argonaut Athletic Association played the Christian Shore baseball team on Thursday and won at the end of the sixteenth inning by a score of five to four. The features of the game were the playing of Thomas Madden, shortstop for the Christian Shore, and the work of "Cy" Badger, pitcher of the Argonauts.

The fourth this year is expected to be a safer and saner holiday in Portsmouth than for many years.

CASEY CHAMPION

Wins Meet At Plains Under Y. M.

C. A. Anspices

George A. Casey is the star athlete of the city. He gets this title by virtue of the victory over a large field in the athletic meet held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association at the Plains yesterday morning. Casey had four firsts, giving him 20 points.

George Mitchell, who pressed Casey for first place, takes second place with 14 points, winning the silver medal. Harry McCaffrey and Boardman Randall tied for third place with a score of 7 points each. Each of these men receive a bronze medal.

The events were full of exciting incidents and were in each case close. In the 220-yard dash, Mitchell tripped and fell. In this event Casey was first; time, 26 4-5 seconds. Chase a very close second; Jamison third.

In the 100-yard dash final, Casey won first; time, 11 4-5 seconds. Mitchell second, Jamison third.

The 440-yard run was won by Mitchell, first, time 1 min. 15 seconds. Morrill second, Chase third.

The mile run was the poorest event of all, owing to the poor condition of the track, fast time being impossible. Gerlish won first, time, 6 min. 12 seconds; Mitchell, second, Watson third.

Shot put—Won by Guy H. Brackett, 27 feet, 7 inches; Michael Chandler, second, 25 feet, 1 inch; Harry McCaffrey, third, 25 feet, 10 inches.

Pole vault—This event was hotly contested. Ham, who was expected to win this event, could only get third place. Randall surprised everyone by winning first place with 7 feet, 6 inches; Harry McCaffrey, second, 7 feet, 5 inches; Horace Ham, third, 7 feet 3 inches.

Running high jump—This event was one of the prettiest numbers on the program. George Casey easily took first place with a jump of 4 feet, 11 inches; Randall and McCaffrey fought it out for second place, McCaffrey finally winning at 4 feet, 10 inches, and Boardman, Randall third, 4 feet, 9 inches.

Running broad jump—This event furnished plenty of excitement, being close from start to finish. Casey finally won first place with a jump of 17 feet, 1 inch; George Mitchell, second, 16 feet 11 1-2 inches; Boardman Randall third, 16 feet, 7 inches.

The meet attracted a large crowd, fully 300 being present. The hour of the meet was so arranged as not to interfere with any of the exercises of the day and so made a pleasing feature of the morning.

The judges were John K. Bates, George Woods and David Smith; timers, John Parsons and James McCarthy; referee, William F. Woods; starter and clerk of course, Alfred O. Booth.

The winners of the highest number of points were as follows: George Casey, 20; George Mitchell, 14; Boardman Randall, 7; Harry McCaffrey, 7; Guy Brackett, 5; Henry Gerrish, 5.

First place counted five, second three and third place one.

FREEDOM'S BIRD IS SURELY A FEMALE, WOMAN DECLARES.

New York—The Mothers' Club has started people thinking. It has started the story, through its president, Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake, that the bird of freedom is a female.

After telling her hearers at the club of how an eagle was recently suffered to perch unmolested for a number of hours upon the mast of an ocean liner, Mrs. Blake said:

"Not so very long ago the men on board would have vied with each other in trying to shoot the bird."

Then her voice assumed an impressive oratorical cadence.

"Let me allude," she said, "to something of which none of you, perhaps, is aware. The American eagle—that great bird which surmounts our national insignia—that great bird, ladies, is one of the feminine gender. It is a fact, ladies—an ornithological fact."

AN AIRSHIP AT WONDERLAND

It is no exaggeration to say that there is no place in New England where one can get so much entertainment for his money as at that wonderful fairyland, that magical, mystical land, that electrical, musical land, Wonderland at Rye Beach. Now with its doors wide open for the season, it has begun its second year in a great blaze of brilliancy and glory, with thousands within its gates and so many varied and high class attractions as to positively bewilder one. Their number and nature have already been outlined in this paper and they need not be specified again in detail. Lincoln Beachey, who has included a phenomenal engagement at the Jamestown exposition, is one of the chief and most sensational attractions of the opening days. His engagement, however, will be brief. Wind and weather permitting, Beachey will make daily ascensions from Wonderland in his big airship, and show his complete mastery over it by rising and falling at will, circling about as he pleases, and then returning to the point of departure. Beachey's exhibition is not an ordinary balloon ascension nor a parachute drop, but a scientific demonstration of the possibilities of ships of the air.

BETTER THAN A NOBLEMAN

Dr. Clark So Claims His Son Is --
Were Formerly Of This City

New York, May 30.—"A struggling New York lawyer who has American grit and Yankee pluck is a far better match for a girl than a British nobleman with only a title to fall back on."

That was the gist of Dr. H. C. Clarke's comment regarding the exile of his daughter-in-law from the house of her father, Josiah Dives, because she married the doctor's son, Frederick H. Clarke, instead of an English nobleman.

"My son is far more deserving of an American girl's affection than is any nobleman with only a title to fall back on," said Mr. Clarke at his home in East Orange, N. J.

"Now, when it comes to a question of blood, my son can boast of an ancestry for which Englishmen should have the profoundest respect. He comes of an old New England family which in 1775 got considerably the best of the English. One of his ancestors, for example, was a signer of the Declaration of Independence."

Another was the first man killed at the battle of Lexington. And still another was Gov. Winthrop, the first colonial governor of Massachusetts."

As a member of the firm of Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, Josiah Dives has a controlling interest in big department stores at Reading, Altoona, Harrisburg, Pottsville and Pottstown. He is also one of the largest shareholders of the Syndicate Trading Company, with stores in Kansas City, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, Hartford, Worcester, Springfield, Mass., and Providence.

Dr. H. F. Clarke was formerly of Portsmouth and his son Frederick, Jr., was a graduate of the Portsmouth High school in 1892.

FOR WEEK IN CAMP

Orders Issued To National Guards Companies

MILITIAMEN WILL BEGIN DUTY ON JUNE 24

General orders in reference to the First Infantry, N. H. N. G., going into camp for the annual tour of duty on June 24, were made official and issued Tuesday by Adj. G. Perley Elliot, and they read as follows: General Orders No. 4.

Headquarters First Infantry
New Hampshire National Guard
Manchester, N. H., May 23, 1907.

Pursuant to G. O. No. 1, Headquarters First brigade, dated Nashua, May 4, 1907, the First Infantry will go into camp at the state camp grounds, Concord, N. H., June 24, for five days' camp duty. Blue uniforms will be worn on this tour of duty. Caps and dress coats will be packed and sent as baggage. Overcoats will be rolled and worn over left shoulder and under the right arm. Company commanders will wear their commands; Adjutant Elliot will wear the band.

II. Enlisted men will provide themselves with at least three pairs of white gloves and a blue flannel shirt. Attention is called to Par. 1, G. O. No. 1, c. s., Headquarters First brigade, and to Article VII, section III, Par. 323, Regulations of the New Hampshire National Guard.

III. Commissary Officer Capt. H. Bertrand Hopkins will make all necessary arrangements for the subsistence of the regiment during this tour of duty.

IV. Capt. Horace E. Osgood, quartermaster, and Quartermaster Sergeant Blakely will report for duty to the brigade quartermaster at the state campground Saturday, June 22, at eight o'clock a. m.

V. Regimental headquarters will be established at the state campground, June 22, at eleven a. m.

VI. Companies will leave their respective railroad stations for Concord Monday, June 24, as follows: Companies A, B, C, F, K, L and band, Manchester, 8.20 a. m., special; Company D, Milford, 7.25 a. m., special; Companies E, I and M, Nashua Junction, 7.50 a. m., special; Companies G and H, Keene, 6.40 a. m., special.

On the embarkation of troops at railroad stations the senior officer present will assume command until arrival of train at Concord.

Company commanders will report to their battalion commanders on the regimental line on Depot square, Concord, upon arrival of trains. Field, staff and non-commissioned staff and band will report to the regimental adjutant on Depot square, Concord, June 24, at 8.45 o'clock.

VII. The following details are hereby made for the five days' duty: Sergt. G. D. Reed, Company M, color sergeant; Sergt. Patrick Sheehy, Company B, state color bearer. They will report to the regimental commander upon arrival of train at Concord.

VIII. Captain Sherburne, Company F, and Captain Foye, Company K, will each detail one private for color guard. They will report to Color Sergeant Reed upon arrival in Concord.

IX. The surgeon will report to Lieut. Col. H. H. Jewell, medical director, at brigade headquarters, at eleven o'clock, June 24.

X. Capt. Zenon A. Layton, assistant surgeon, is hereby detailed to accompany the First Light Battery on the march to the state campground, June 25. Upon receipt of this order he will report in person to Capt. Silas R. Wallace for instructions.

XI. First sergeants will make out morning reports for June 24 en route to Concord and deliver the same to adjutant immediately on arrival in camp.

XII. Company commanders will furnish the paymaster with an official muster roll of their commands, made out upon a sheet from the sergeant's roll book, not later than one p. m., June 24.

XIII. The surgeon, accompanied by the quartermaster and commissary officer will make a daily inspection of the regimental camp, and each will report verbally to the regimental commander after each inspection. At the completion of the tour of duty they will report briefly in writing the result of their observations in their respective departments, together with any suggestions that in their judgment would be for the good of the service.

XIV. Payrolls will be made in accordance with Par. VII, G. O. No. 1, c. s., A. G. O., and will be delivered to the adjutant previous to breaking camp.

XV. All absentees who have not filed their excuse, and the same been approved by the commanding officer, must be reported absent without leave.

XVI. Monthly reports of drills may be omitted for the months of July, August and September, but all companies must assemble for drill or instruction in rifle practice not less than twenty-four times during the calendar year.

XVII. The attention of company commanders is called to Par. 347, Regulations N. H. N. G., the requirements of which will be strictly complied with.

XVIII. In compliance with Par. XIV, G. O. No. 6, c. s., A. G. O., the following officers have been appointed and commissioned in the First Infantry, N. H. N. G., and will be obeyed and respected accordingly:

First Lieut. John P. Flanagan, adjutant of the first battalion.

First Lieut. Arthur E. Tinkham, adjutant of the second battalion.

First Lieut. Herbert H. Rouse, adjutant of the third battalion.

By order of Lieut. Col. Shattuck.

Capt. and Adj.

KITTELY'S NEW YACHT CLUB

Opened On Memorial Day -- A Fine
Location

Never has the pretty stream behind the navy yard borne such a busy and gala appearance as on Thursday afternoon when the entire fleet of the Kittery Yacht Club now in commission assembled there for the opening of the club house. Several circumstances resulted in a delay in building operations, which made the exercises largely preliminary, but a large crowd saw the trial spin and attended the bountiful dinner in the evening.

The principal event was a trial spin of boats, but as by far the greater number are not yet ready for service there were but twelve entries. The purpose of the spin was to time the boats on the course in order to fix their rating for future try-outs.

The course was from a line abreast the yacht club stage to a stake boat off Fort Point and return, two trips, and the following launches were entered: Vendetta, Ernest Jackson; Mpe, Alfred Googins; May, T. Burton Hoyt; Wsh, Samuel Johnson; Squirt, Fred Bunker; Nimbus, Walter Amee; East Sister, George Terry; Vague, Fred Pray; Doris, Charles Newsom; Gin Flz, Fred Stacy; Ranger II, John Tilton; Perry Lane, Charles Hussey.

Ernest Jackson ran the course in the quickest time, but as boats of all classes participated alike the affair could hardly be called a race. Roscoe Hanson's new flyer, which is believed to be one of the queens of the fleet did not appear, owing to an accident to her machinery.

Hundreds inspected the club house, which is about a week from completion. It is a two-story structure with a two-pitch roof, 22x32 feet, with a broad covered piazza on three sides. The lower floor is given up to a big hall for the use of the members, in which a large stone fireplace suggests cozy gatherings in the future. The second floor is divided into two rooms, one of which is a ladies parlor and the other a kitchen, although it has been voted to build an annex to use as a kitchen later. Both stories have natural wood interior finish.

A strong pier and long float stage in front are prominent features, although the buoyancy of the latter was taxed by the crowds upon it. Many Portsmouth boats visited the premises during the afternoon and were enthusiastic in their praise.

The Kittery Yacht Club was organized on Jan. 6, and now has a growing membership of over 100, with upwards of seventy boats, mainly motor, in its fleet.

The officers are as follows: Commodore, Emory R. Currier, sloop yacht Tuisco; vice commodore, T. Burton Hoyt, launch May; fleet captain, Alfred M. Googins, launch Mae; secretary, Fred M. Stacy, launch Gin Flz; treasurer, Charles F. Hussey, launch Perry Lane; measurer, John Foye; fleet surgeon, Dr. J. D. Carty.

The smooth waters of the beautiful little stream covered with boats of all kinds gayly bedecked with bunting made a very pretty picture, and it is easy to see that with the whole fleet in commission a valuable acquisition to the attractions of the town to summer visitors is at hand.

Many ills come from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver and sluggish bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthens stomach, bowels and liver, and purifies the blood.

BEATS THIS YEAR

A Cold Memorial of Twenty-Two Years Ago Recalled

Twenty-two years ago Thursday will be remembered by the older people of this city as a cold day, when the thermometer registered below the freezing point.

The Grand Army veterans will tell you they found it very disagreeable marching and that they were so cold they could hardly carry the wreaths to decorate the graves of their dead comrades.

During the night the heavy frost killed corn, potatoes and strawberries and forced the farmers of the surrounding towns to plant everything they had in the ground over again.

Eben Brackett of this city, who at that time owned a large farm at Stratham, told a Herald representative today that the weather was so severe that he lost nearly 2,000 boxes of strawberries and several acres of corn and potatoes which had grown to a height of over a foot. It was distressing to see the stalks of the vegetables lying flat for miles and it nearly took the heart from many a poor farmer, who had worked so hard for nothing.

NOTHING CAN BE DONE

No Licenses Will be Issued for Saloons Near Station

Since the license commissioners refused to grant a renewal of license for the saloons near the railroad station many efforts have been made in behalf of both former license holders to have the matter reconsidered and allow one of them to open.

Every effort proved fruitless, and the license board this week informed all concerned that under no circumstances would certificates be issued. This decision is to be considered final.

MEMORIAL DAY, 1907

Nature denied the sweet blossoms,
She always freely gave;
Does she hint we should cover only
With green, our loved one's grave?

In the lone and quiet graveyard,
The bivouac of the dead,
With green trees gently waving,
Interlacing overhead,

Amid the sunbeams coming,
And interwrought with shade,
Fine tracing on the green below,
A shimmering brocade.

Then the water, green and sparkling,
To our senses seems to say,
Cast only green upon my bosom,
Where your dead, yet loved ones
lay.

While we pay our loving tribute;
To our honored dead today,
Don't forget the ill and lonely,
In our Post and Comps away.

NEELIE M. FLETCHER,
Corr's No. 6.

Portsmouth, N. H.

CITY BRIEFS

There is a scarcity of flowers.
June brings no holiday in this state.

Summer may come in time, if we are patient.

The cold spring of 1907 will be long remembered.

The motor boat fleet this year is an enormous one.

The longest days will be upon us
in about three weeks.

The summer visitors are arriving nearly every day now.

Portsmouth has an excellent record
in the country's wars.

Have your shoes repaired by John Mott, 34 Congress street.

The rains of this week will do lots of good, the farmers say.

The official beginning of Summer is less than a month away.

Portsmouth is apparently not on the baseball map this year.

The genius hobo is less in evidence than is usual at this season.

Dover has a baseball team with very much of a Portsmouth aspect.

Judge Wallace will come to this city to hear court cases next week.

The bicycle seems to be rapidly regaining its popularity in this city.

Preparations for the opening of the Summer hotels are advancing rapidly.

The bad weather has apparently affected the spirits of the automobilists.

York Harbor admits no rivals as a place of sojourn for literary men and women.

Farmers of this vicinity will hardly have much to offer in the way of early vegetables.

First dance of the season at Hampton Beach Casino tomorrow night.
Band concert on Sunday.

IT CAME HARD, BUT HE'S GONE

After passing forty-six years as a resident of Russell street, Charles Foote has moved to his new residence, recently purchased on Ham-over street. During the long stay on that street, he occupied four dwellings and his departure from that locality removes the last of the old time residents.

CENTRAL STATION AT HAMPTON

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company is putting in a central exchange at Hampton. The new office will be headquarters for the service of that town and Hampton Beach. Later, it is expected that the new exchange will include Rye and other surrounding towns.

YACHT RACES

Portsmouth Yacht Club Holds Two Races

The Portsmouth Yacht Club opened the season with two races Memorial day. In the morning there was a sailing race outside of the harbor, and in the afternoon a motor boat race in the river. The races were a little early for a big entry, as many of the yachts were not yet in commission and in the same way the motor boats were not tuned up for racing.

The sailing race was held at ten o'clock in the forenoon and there were but for entries, and of these only two finished. The course was from a stake boat off Jerry's Point bunoy to Kitt's Rock and thence to a stake boat off the Eastern Sisters.
There was very little wind blowing and no sea running, and there was very little excitement to the race.
The Owl, Capt. Hendrick, made an easy win, and the Echo was the only other to finish.

The result:
Name and Owner Elapsed
Time.

Owl, Hendrick ..... 1-15-30
Echo, Adams ..... 1-22-50

Jeanette, Fraser; May, Johnson,
did not finish.

The motor boat races were held in the river in the afternoon, but there was a small entry considering the great number of boats in the club register. There were two classes, but only two started in the first and five in the second class. The course was from a stake boat off the railroad wharf to and around a stake boat in the Narrows, three times around, or about three miles. The following was the result:

Name and Owner Elapsed
Time.

Margaret, Shirley David ..... 34-25
Vendette, Jackson ..... 35-25

Second Class.

Name and Owner Elapsed
Time.

No name, Dick O'Brien ..... 40-46
No name, Swell ..... 52-20
No name, Fred Manson ..... 56-09

NEW SCHOOL PINS

Take the Place of Class Pins at the High School

The new seal pins of Portsmouth High School have arrived and they are magnificent specimens of the engraver's art. In the center of the pin, in raised gold, is the seal of Portsmouth. Surrounding it is a red enamel band with the inscription,
"Portsmouth High School, 1856."

The edge of the pin is made somewhat broken to represent a seal.

There will now be no more class pins. This removes a considerable burden of expense from the undergraduates, as the class pins, on account of the limited number made,

were very high priced, while the seal pins have been secured at a moderate rate, on consideration of the manufacturers' having the monopoly of them.

The credit for this undertaking, which is a decided innovation, belong to the graduating class, the members of which conceived the idea and design of the pin. This is one step toward abolishing the petty factional differences, which have always existed between the lower and upper classes and the class of 1907 deserves great credit for the good work done in this direction.

SUCCESSFUL OPENINGS

Of Casinos at Cape Porpoise and Old Falls

The Cape Porpoise Casino at Cape Porpoise, Me., and Old Falls Casino and park at Sanford, Me., were opened for the season on Thursday, under the management of Mr. Hartford. Both openings were remarkably successful and the two parks are certain to be favorite places of resort during the Summer. People from this city will find them attractive places to visit.

Over 1,000 people attended the moving picture exhibitions and other amusements at Cape Porpoise on Thursday while the Old Falls attractions drew a crowd of 2,500.

The resident managers are George W. Downing and Selma H. Wheeler, both of this city, at Cape Porpoise and Old Falls respectively.

AT THE NAVY YARD

The yard fire department made good time today (Friday) when fire quarters were called shortly before eleven o'clock. From the time the alarm sounded until the recall was sent in was less than thirteen minutes.

The U. S. S. Austria was reversed in her position in her berth today (Friday) and will later be given a dock trial.

Another portion of the quay wall has made its appearance on the south side at low water.

The boilers removed from the U.
S. S. Yankee are being stored on Seavey's Island between the new machine shop and the office building.

Renben Task of the steam engineering boiler shop is enjoying a short furlough.

Bernard Lynch of the steam engineering boiler shop has been discharged at his own request.

The members of Company D who served in Cuba are busy arranging for the unveiling of the memorial tablet to be placed at the marine bar-acks in memory of their comrades, Sergt. Smith and Private Dumphy, on June 11.

The ball game between the yard marines and the Southern team on Wednesday resulted in a victory for the former by a score of twenty to four.

Rear Admirals James K. Cogswell and Francis H. Delano were visitors at the yard today.

POLICE COURT

George Hattis, charged with breaking and entering the office of Curtis Call last Wednesday night, pleaded guilty before Judge Simms in police court today (Friday) and was held in the sum of $100 for the grand jury at the October term of superior court.

Charles Downing, for drunkenness, pleaded guilty and after being questioned by the court Judge Simms was about to release him with a suspended sentence, but he refused to accept it and a sentence of six months and costs of $6.90 was imposed.

"BOBBY" IN TOWN

Col. Robert J. Danielson of the Soldiers' Home at Tilton is making his annual visit to his old friends here and is being most royally entertained. Robert is a hero of the Civil War and is proud of his record both in the army and navy. He won laurels under Col. Spaulding of the Seventeenth Massachusetts volunteer regiment and was a member of the crew of the famous U. S. S. Galena.
He received a great ovation from his former comrades at the North End, where he so long labored among the Lackawanna spooners and often addressed the Hayscales Club and other marine organizations on "The Rights of Man."

NEWS FOR SPORT LOVERS

Holy Cross shut out Dartmouth on Thursday, winning by a score of six to nothing. Dartmouth could do nothing with Mansfield, while Becket was unsteady and was hit hard.

Joe Harris, the pitcher of the Boston Americans, has been suspended for an indefinite period, because of his failure to get in condition.

Brown won a three to two victory over Yale on Thursday.

Sam Follansbee, with the Lowell
New England League team, made four errors at third base in a game played on Wednesday.

Frank Leary has pitched good ball so far this year and looks more than lionaire mine operator he cannot keep out of baseball and is announced as captain of the new Dover professional team.—Concord Monitor. And Sperry has the goods, too.

Andover defeated Exeter in the annual track games at Andover on Memorial day, sixty-one and one-half to fifty-one and one-half. Hart of Exeter broke the record for putting the sixteen pound shot twice, with a competition record of forty-four feet, six inches, and a put of forty-four feet, eleven and one-half inches in an exhibition trial. The previous record was held by Marshall of Exeter at forty feet, eleven and one-half inches.

Brice, the St. Anselm's College pitcher, has all the appearance of a youth bound to make good.

Brown appears to have an excellent chance for the college baseball championship.

The teams in the York and Stratford County League seem to be evenly matched.
